

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (March 10, 2022) - Nearly 50 Port Authority bus routes will be detoured in downtown Pittsburgh on Saturday, March 12 for the St. Patrick's Day Parade.

Buses that operate on Boulevard of the Allies (Routes 56, 57, 58, and 67) will begin detouring at 7 a.m. for parade assembly. Buses that operate in the Strip District (Routes 2, 54, 86, 87, 88, and 91) will begin detouring about 7:30 a.m. for parade staging.

All other bus routes will begin detouring about 9 a.m., with most routes resuming regular service soon after the streets are reopened. A complete list of bus routes that will be detoured is available at www.PortAuthority.org/StPatricksDayParade.

Riders should anticipate delays on bus routes that travel downtown.

During the parade and through the early evening, two-car trains will operate on the Red, Blue, and Silver Lines.

Additionally, a free rail shuttle will operate between Steel Plaza Station and Penn Station next to the East Busway beginning about 7 a.m. until streets are reopened.

Riders are reminded that due to the closure of the Saw Mill Run Boulevard Bridge, Red Line rail cars are traveling over the Blue Line. Port Authority is operating a rail shuttle between Overbrook Junction and Potomac Station and a bus shuttle between Potomac Station and Station Square. Both are operating every 30 minutes.

In the event of adverse weather on Saturday, additional service updates will be posted on Twitter @pghtransitalert.
